The following is a list of scholarly articles published in 2007 on the health of Indigenous peoples living in Northern, Arctic and Sub-Arctic regions of the world. The scope of the bibliography is to provide a list of journal articles describing health status, program and health care services delivery, and health care providers working with Northern populations. The bibliography does not include reports, book chapters, or conference papers. The complete list, including abstracts, is available on the web site of the University of Manitoba's Health Sciences Libraries at the following URL: umanitoba.ca/libraries/health as part of the Aboriginal Health Collection and Information Services provided by the Neil John Maclean Health Sciences Library.

The bibliography includes references to literature encompassing a holistic definition of health and well-being to provide an understanding of social and environmental determinants that impact on health. Databases searched included the following:

- Scopus (Life Sciences, Health Sciences, Physical Sciences, Social Sciences)
- CSA Illumina (Education, ERIC, Health Sciences, Psychology, Social Services Abstracts, Social Work Abstracts, Sociology, TOXLINE)
- Ebscohost (CINAHL, pre-CINAHL, Academic Search Elite, Child Development and Adolescent Studies, Family and Society Studies Worldwide, Women's Studies International)
- Silver Platter (Agteline, PsycINFO)
- Medline on PubMed
